THE ROYAL SOCIETY OF ST GEORGE AND SEAFORD TOWN COUNCIL

VETERANS & ARMED FORCES DAY 2019

The Sun Shone on the Parade!

Again this year, Seaford Town Council, the Seahaven Branch of The Royal Society of St George (RSSG) and The Royal British Legion as a joint committee, arranged the Veterans and Armed Forces Day on Saturday 29th June at the Martello Fields, Seaford, for the whole of the District of Lewes with surrounding towns and villages.

This year the parade was organised to march through the town down to the Martello Fields, and what a spectacle it was! It was a great success with Veterans, Standard Bearers and Cadets all being led by the Surrey and Sussex Drum and Bugle Band.

Thank you to the local businesses that made the effort to decorate their windows to mark the occasion too, which added to the atmosphere!

The inspecting officer was Mr David Allam DL. He took the salute accompanied by Cllr Nazish Adil, Mayor of Seaford, Mrs Violet Hancock, High Sheriff and Mr Steve Saunders, Vice President of the Seahaven Branch RSSG. The event was commanded by Major Bob Peedle MBE, Chairman Seahaven Branch RSSG and of the Joint Committee.

The Parade was under the command of Kevin Sawyer, a Royal British Legion Parade Marshal. For the Inspection the General Salute, Last Post and Reveille were all sounded by a Trumpeters from the Seaford Silver Band under the leadership of former Royal Tank Regiment bandsman, Christopher Goodchild.

The weather was superb again this year! The event started at 11am and closed soon after 2pm, during which time many people witnessed the parade, and visited the stalls and the arena events. A popular attraction was the veteran military vehicles on display alongside the arena.

Bulletin Board

Up front expenses for the day were met by grants from Newhaven Town Council, Peacehaven Town Council and the House Project Centre (Peacehaven). Surplus monies after the event are being given to the Forces Charity 'The Royal British Legion'. Once again, the Joint Committee extend their grateful thanks to all those who took part and everyone from RSSG and Seaford Town Council who turned up to help with the event.

Car parking was in the hands of the Newhaven Station of the National Coastwatch Institute and safety marshals for the parade came from the Seaford Bonfire Society. Event management was again in the expert hands of Adam Briggs and his team from SEL events. Refreshments for the Veterans and VIPs were provided by Seahaven Branch RSSG. Supplementing refreshments was the Seaford Martello Rotary Club's Tavern in the Tent where Veterans on parade received their first drink free.

This year not only were members of the Royal British Legion Seaford Branch and other local branches present, but we welcomed veterans from elsewhere. Veterans from all services were present, Royal Navy, including Royal Marines, Army, the RAF and the Merchant Navy. TOMMY was again guarding the entrance to the Arena on the Day. The only sadness was the absence for the first time of the RAF Cadets on parade, whose Squadron at Newhaven closed over a year ago.

Cllr Nazish Adil said: "What a great way and an excellent day to commemorate the services, sacrifices and dedication of the ones standing and remembering the ones fallen on the D-Day! It had been a great yet emotional time. Everyone on the stand had goose bumps and teary eyes while they were marching past".

Chairman and Event Commander, Major Bob Peedle MBE said: "It was a magnificent affair and I was so proud and thankful of all those who contributed to its success. It is truly a community event supported by so many organisations and individuals."

Seaford's Accessible Beach Access for All – Grand Opening!

Seaford Town Council was proud to join forces with local resident Sam Taylor in the grand opening ceremony of the new accessible beach on Saturday, 20th July. The weather was kind, although a little breezy, the rain stayed away, and the sun shone.

Seaford's Town Crier, Peter White, opened the ceremony, handing over to the Mayor of Seaford, Cllr Nazish Adil, who thanked the Town Council and Sam

Taylor for their hard work in completing this inspiring project: "I just want to thank everybody especially Tony Jackson, the facilities manager from Seaford Town Council and David Archer from Seaford Builders Club, the Seaford Martello Rotary club, participating councillors plus everybody who got behind the project. Special congratulations to Sam Taylor for being so thoughtful in taking the initiative. This platform area will allow everybody with mobility issues to access our beach. Many people take this for granted. When your mobility is restricted, this platform will make a huge difference. Such a pleasure to see a great turnout and loved sharing the joy of the mobility challenged locals who expressed their excitement with laughter and cheers. Well done to everybody!"

In attendance at the grand opening was the President of the Seaford Martello Rotary Club and Seaford Town Councillor, Cllr Rodney Reed; Project and Facilities Manager at Seaford Town Council, Tony Jackson; fundraiser Simon Perry; and approx. 20 members of the public.

Seaford Town Council has worked closely with resident Sam Taylor, as well as The Environment Agency and Lewes District Council. Sam was absolutely thrilled with the success of this joint venture.

This has been an exciting project that we hope will bring joy to many people who visit Seaford Beach, especially those who may not have been able to experience getting this close to view the sea before. Something we all take for granted will mean so much to those who may have not been able to feel the sea breeze...

...and see the waves crashing on the shore.

Thank you to all those involved in this wonderful project. This has been successful due to the amount of funding that was raised partly from public donations (thanks to Sam's use of social media to raise awareness). As well as donations from the Seaford Martello Rotary Club and from Simon Perry who raised funds through his very popular pub quiz. A special thank you must also go to The Builders Club who provided the material for the initial decking and labour for the entire project at no charge.

Seaford Town Council is pleased to work with any individual or organisation on similar projects that result in enhancements to the town to the benefit of residents and visitors. Seaford town Council is also taking on the responsibility of maintaining the access point and removing and replacing part of it over the winter months.

Brand New Outdoor Table Tennis Tables!

Seaford Town Council is pleased to announce that two new outdoor concrete table tennis tables have been delivered and installed at the Salts Recreation Ground next to the Salts Café in Seaford!

This has been welcomed as another free activity available to all ages and abilities in the town. Bring along your own bats and balls, or sets will be available to borrow from the Salts Café during opening times.

The tables were installed on Monday 29th April from 'Playcrete'. Seaford Town Council has been able to purchase these with a grant application for Community Infrastructure Levy (CIL) funds from Lewes District Council. The table tennis tables have been another wonderful addition to the Salts Recreation Ground that can be enjoyed all year round weather permitting.

The table tennis tables were identified by users of the park as a desirable addition to the Salts during a public consultation which led to the Salts Development Plan being adopted by the Council.

In order to ensure the comfort and ease of all beach users, a dog ban by-law was put in place from 1st May to 30th September on certain parts of the seafront.

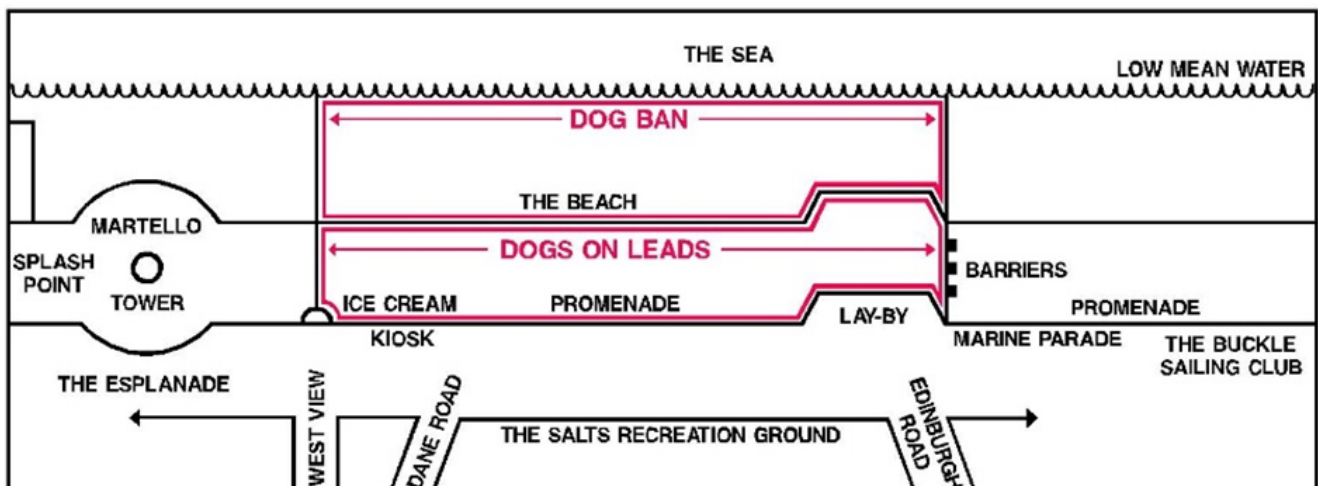

Seaford Town Council would like to remind all dog walkers visiting the seafront to please take care in observing the dog ban areas, which differ for the promenade and beach itself, and are in effect from Frankie's Beach Café leading west to the start of Bönningstedt Promenade.

There are signs along the promenade displaying the designated areas either for 'Dogs on Leads' or 'No Dogs allowed'.

Dog owners are also reminded to please pick up after your pets; this allows all users to enjoy the beach safely.

To report an issue with dog fouling or breaches of the by-law, please inform Lewes District Council's Neighbourhood First team online at <https://www.lewes-eastbourne.gov.uk/environmental-problems/neighbourhood-first/> or report it through the District Council's 'Report It' smartphone app.

Seaford's Sussex Day Celebrations 2019

On Sunday 16th June, Seaford Town Council held a celebration of Sussex Day.

The event was led by Seaford Town's Crier, Peter White, who read the official 'Sussex Day Charter' for all the people of the ancient kingdom of Sussex, celebrating the rites and traditions of Sussex. This was followed by Peter White's own more humorous 'Sussex Day Cry', which gave a potted history of the origins of the Celebration which marks the festival of St. Richard of Chichester.

Thanks go to the Deputy Mayor Cllr Jim Lord assisted by Peter Gwilliam of the Seaford Lifeguards for raising the flag. Also, to the Martello Museum for raising the Sussex Flag and decorating the Tower with bunting, along with providing shelter for the Seaford Silver Band who played in the moat due to the high winds on the day!

Sussex Crafters had been invited to attend, but due to such windy weather it wasn't possible for all of them to display their stalls. However, the entertainment still went on! Thank you to the Seaford Silver Band and 'Shannon' who were appreciated by the hardy crowd that gathered.

A quote from Peter White, Town Crier, 'Seaford is Sussex, Sussex won't be druv!'

Seaford & The Seven Sisters

On a Trail of Discovery

Wanderlust Publications have recently announced that a walk along the Seven Sisters is one of the top five scenic trails on National Trust land in the UK.

What walkers, and tourists to the area, often fail to realise however is that the world-famous view of the Seven Sisters is actually from a viewpoint within the Seaford Head Nature Reserve; land owned and funded by Seaford Town Council and cared for on its behalf by Sussex Wildlife Trust.

The viewpoint can easily be reached by walking from South Hill, where there are car parking and catering facilities. A gravel track slopes down towards the equally famous Coastguard Cottages where the stunning view opens up. Walkers can continue along a grassy path parallel to the Cuckmere River, eventually coming to the road bridge which enables them to cross to the other side and access the base of the first Seven Sister, Haven Brow.

Alternatively, walkers can turn west and follow the Vanguard Way to Hope Gap (look out for William Nicholson's film of the same name) and beyond. The track leads to Seaford Head Golf Course, where the 300ft drop from the 18th hole is also a worldwide attraction, and The View (Bar and Restaurant) – the perfect spot to stop for a drink or meal.

Continue on the coastal path as it descends to the promenade. Pass by the ancient Martello Tower – or stop to visit the fascinating Seaford Museum housed within it. From a little further along, the town centre is just a stone's throw away. Ensure you allow time to browse the eclectic range of shops and boutiques; there are many arts and crafts traders, art galleries and in addition to some seriously tempting cafés and independent restaurants!

Bulletin Board

Those less energetic might consider hiring a beach hut for the day; a perfect base from which to enjoy more stunning views to the towering heights of Splash Point to the east, and Newhaven harbour to the west. Set right in the middle of the bay, close to Frankie's Beach Café, there's huge enjoyment to be had from this long-held seaside tradition. Or if you are looking for a more permanent beachside bolthole in this great town, then a few of the high-quality Bönningstedt beach huts remain for sale.

To have such a famous location as the Seven Sisters so close to the town is a huge asset. Drawing visitors to the centre, hence supporting the local businesses and economy, is high on the list of Seaford Town Council's strategic objectives. And there is lots more to discover whether you are considering a day trip or a longer stay. Take a browse through our Town Guide, find the link on the home page of our website, and put a visit on your bucket list!

Motorhomes and Caravans on the seafront— Seaford Town Council's Position statement

Current situation

Seaford Town Council receives numerous complaints relating to motorhome use on the Seafront, more than on any other subject matter. These complaints come from two main groups namely local residents who do not want motorhomes near their premises and in particular free long-term parking to live in. The second group is motorhome owners who wish to visit Seaford, in particular the Seafront, but find they cannot park there and are then pushed into residential streets where they can park, with no view. These locations are close to residential properties which creates resentment from those residents who in turn complain.

Many residents contacted the Council about the long-term motorhomes and caravans at Cliff Gardens. There was also an issue regarding the road condition on Cliff Gardens which is owned by the Town Council. It was therefore decided to close the road to enable works to take place once tenders were received and funding in place. The works have now been completed and the road reopened with signs installed prohibiting parking there by caravans and motorhomes.

Action

For the medium to long term solution Seaford Town Council has looked at the existing Traffic Regulation Orders on the seafront to try and find a compromise solution which suits all parties. This has been done in partnership with East Sussex County Council which as the highways authority is responsible for putting in place Traffic Regulation Orders and Lewes District Council who own The Buckle Car Park.

Consequently, new Traffic Regulation Orders are being progressed for the Esplanade Car park behind the Martello Tower, and the Buckle Car Park which will allow motorhomes to park on the car parks for one evening only.

Later new Traffic Regulation Orders will be put in place by East Sussex County Council to better manage the use of the seafront roads by motorhomes during the day only and ban them on an evening.

These new traffic Regulation Orders will be easier to police and impose fixed penalties for any breaches, which is difficult with the current orders. Seaford Town Council does not control the implementation of these; any queries should be directed to East Sussex County Council at Parking.ESCC@eastsussex.gov.uk , or by calling them on 01323 466244...

Seaford Town Council is attempting to secure an order from East Sussex County Council banning caravans and undertaking to take action when left on the highway as is the case in nearby areas.

Personnel Updates

The Council has recently implemented changes to the office staff, following the return of Emily Piper from maternity leave—welcome back!

These changes saw Sue Treadwell return as Mayor's Secretary, however we are pleased that she agreed to retain the Council's grants application administration which she had been covering in the Projects and Facilities Team during Emily's leave.

The Projects and Facilities Team has been enhanced to accommodate, not only flexible hours for staff, but the ever increasing administrative support needed to successfully deliver Council projects. We welcome Julie Payne to the Council's new Administrative Assistant role which encompasses all of the Council's day to day administration such as the Council's admin email maintenance and also general administrative assistance for the Projects and Facilities Team.

Emily's return gave the Council a good opportunity to review the Projects and Facilities Team which saw Sharan Brydon's role change to Project Support Officer (Facilities), Emily Piper change to Project Support Officer (Projects) and Lyn Collins change to Marketing and Sponsorship Administrator. These are all part time roles.

We are sad to say goodbye to Gemma Saunderson-Barker who was with us for just over a year temporarily covering the Administration Assistant (Mayor's Secretary) role.

We wish you all the very best!

Martello Toilets—Update

On Monday 15 July and Tuesday 16 July 2019 Staples & Sons, Seaford Plumbers, replaced the old metal toilets with new white ones.

As part of the Seafront Improvement Plan the long-term aspiration for this site is to rebuild a new toilet block subject to funding being obtained. Any work being carried out is as an interim arrangement so that Seaford Town Council can continue striving to improve this facility.

We apologise for any inconvenience and thank you for your patience and understanding.

Bönningstedt Beach Huts

Seaford is a town with an enormous amount to offer, not least its superb promenade which sweeps around a beautiful bay from the magnificent towering heights of Seaford Head in the east towards Newhaven harbour to the west.

Bönningstedt Promenade is a particularly peaceful spot where beach huts existed in the 1900s. Recognising the public's love of this great seaside tradition, Seaford Town Council installed twenty exclusive beach huts right here.

Built to the highest quality, each hut has a welcoming interior to design to your taste, and the perfect outside decking area.

There's free parking, a fresh water tap and a toilet for the sole use of owners close by and, in the near future, the option of having an electrical supply. And in the winter, there's nothing nicer than wrapping yourself in a blanket, hot chocolate in hand, and watching the tumultuous waves crash onto the beach.

A few huts remain for sale. Visit <https://www.seafordtowncouncil.gov.uk/Beach-Huts.aspx> for more information and to book a viewing of our show hut.

Seaford Town Forum

Over 80 members of the public attended Seaford's recent Annual Town Forum to receive an update on Town Council activities over the past year and watch as the deserving recipients received their Mayor's and Young Mayor's Awards and heard presentations from local community groups and charities.

The 2019 Town Forum, hosted by Seaford Town Council and opened by Town Crier, Peter White, took place at The View at Seaford Head on Tuesday 21st May and was a very positive meeting, full of key updates and information, and inspiring messages from the award winners and community groups in attendance.

The recently elected Mayor of Seaford, Councillor Nazish Adil, welcomed all those in attendance to the event and started the proceedings. Presentations were made by Citizens Advice Bureau, CTLA, Waves Seaford, Seaford Lifeguards, Seaford Community Events Committee (Motorfest) and Seaford Musical Theatre, who had all received large financial grants from the Council during 2018/19. The presentations ranged from verbal updates to PowerPoint presentations and a YouTube video of Seaford's Motorfest event www.youtube.com/watch?v=Ew_j8uuQ0yc

All the presentations were informative sessions and helped raise understanding and awareness of how these vital grants can really change people's lives and improve the town of Seaford.

Also present were those groups and charities in receipt of small financial grants (under £500) during 2018/19, who had taken the time to arrange display stands letting people know more about what they do and with literature to give out.

During the event, presentations were also made to the Mayor's chosen charities of the funds raised throughout the past year. Councillor Wallraven was thrilled to be able to present Teddy Treats and Seaford Museum and Heritage Society £2,234.42 each.

The evening then moved on to the annual Mayor's Awards; 2018/2019 Mayor, Councillor Linda Wallraven, was pleased to be able to announce her awards to individuals that have helped support and enrich the town; Jennifer Wright for her long term voluntarily help ensuring Seaford's noticeboards are tidy and up to date, The Old Town Hall Volunteers, The Crouch Bowling Club,...

Operation Pollinator

Seaford Head Golf Course are pleased to announce that they are now signed up to:

Leading agriculture company Syngenta are supporting golf clubs over the coming seasons to establish and manage areas of pollen and nectar rich wildflower habitat that will provide essential food resources and nesting habitat for pollinators, including native bees, butterflies and other insects.

The selected native wildflowers will also provide new visual features and will give added interest to your round of golf from the environmental diversity it will support.

Seaford Head Golf Course's Head Greenkeeper Simon Lambert said "We have many areas already set aside as wildflower areas. We have our own wildflower mix that was created to reflect the flowers and grasses found around our site.

We are set within the South Downs National Park with a large area with SSSI designated as chalk grassland. This is managed by ourselves and Sussex Wildlife Trust.

We hope to continue to grow these areas and Operation Pollinator is something myself and my employers are proud to be part of".
